But there are milk companies which are providing good nutrients in their milk such as nestle, AMUL etc.

In foreign nation there are competitors providing much more amount of supplements in their milk like horizon etc.
HOW WOULD I COMPETE?

1) A research has to be done in my field that who are the competitors, what are they selling, at what price are they selling.

2) I will advertise my product mega milk, its needs, its importance, its features and what are the better qualities which my milk has and not others.

3) I will differentiate my product with the others in a good way and tell them why they should buy my product and not the competitors.

4) Once the business is running successfully I will expand my product and introduce new products.
